“ Aunt Bettye had more gumption than most of us—the spirit that wanted to live independently forever and eat her own vegetables was forged in her childhood. (Bettye was a vegetarian before the word was invented; they called her a picky eater.) Nothing was more important to her than her family and her faith. I know my Uncle Bob was the love of her life; her siblings were her very best friends and their children and offspring lit up her eyes every time she thought of them. For Stephanie, Debbie, and those of you who cared for her after Uncle Bob passed I know she was truly grateful. Gerry and I send our deepest sympathy for your loss—the last of her generation...

*God bless,
Rose*
