“ I am so thankful that my first cousin was a part of my life in so many ways. I know of no one that ever met her that would not have been impressed by her devotion to family. Billie Jean has now gotten her wings as a reward for the beautiful life she created. There in heaven she will be a super star as she crosses over the streets of gold and greets the loved ones that have gone before her. To Chuck I offer my sympathy and respect to a man that watched over her every move. To her wonderful children I say you will never have to question her loyalty and unconditional love for you. A beautiful lady indeed. RIP my friend.

“ What a special person Billie Jean was. A dear and beautiful cousin who always had a hug and smile waiting for you. She was always interested in how your life was going; your family, your health, your job. She loved people and was dedicated to staying in touch with those she loved. Her cards were always welcome and her penmanship was perfection. We will miss you dear cousin. God Bless Chuck, your children and their families.

“ I was 12 or 13 years young. I went to visit Her daughter Bonnie. I met her out side . She was tending flowers on a arch trellis and asked me to hold a few flowers she had picked. She was finnished and I gave her the flowers back and she gave one back to me and said. You will know what to do with it. I gave the flower to Bonnie and then we had soup.
She was the kindest of people to me. As are her children. She lives on in them. The Angels are singing.
