“ Mr. Pike was my landlord for many years. I lived in that little church on Davis St in Jefferson City. We fished together in the river and I spent many afternoons with him and Mrs. Pike in their house. This world was very blessed to have Mr. Pike. He will surely be missed. Love and prayers to the family. ”

“ Clyde Foster was the first born of 8 siblings to a frugal family of the Blue Ridge in a remote 2 room shack near New River, At a rural crossroads know as Poplar Camp, Virginia. No hospital or medical needs were there with him and his 18 year old mother. No one could ever have seen this baby rising from this obscure and poor life, to become such a success.

Clyde Foster was in the US Navy when I was born. He worked so hard to become a successful business man and major residential and commercial property owner, with his first and always love, Jewel, by his side, while at the same time serving his community, fellow man and caring for his family he was dedicated to. .

Clyde Foster was an American hero and he will be missed by all who knew him. Our love and respect go to his caring family members who cared for him with such dedication. Each one is in our thoughts and prayers.
