“ I remember when my dad would take me to Aunt Wilma and Uncle Danny’s house on the weekends (it was one of my favorite places to go) and Danny would always have us kids outside doing something. He would put us on the lawnmower and me and Jimmy would fight over who got to steer it (I have a picture to prove it) and he would ride us on the back of his motorcycle all around the chicken houses. He loved his wife and his children and he was such a hard worker. He will be dearly missed.
