I remember running thru the woods in Kentucky at grammas, chasing after jaimy! we built tree forts and when I told him I hated my name he asked what I would change it to I said Raquel and he called me that for a long time . it was like our little inside joke as kids. I will forever miss that smile and remember that mischievous look & twinkle he had in his eyes as a child when times weren't so tough. You can rest easy now. I know you and Jeff are catching up on old times! forever in my heart, you were an angel flying to close to the ground
