I will always love you Jeff from the moment you kissed me for the very first time in Fred's nova in the park .I have always wished that you would have told me how you felt about me instead of telling my mom things may have turned out how you wanted but I was scared that Russ would take the kids and keep them from us.if I had left him.and I wanted them. to have both parents growing up like we had no back and forth between parents no parents talking shit about the other one .I will miss you until we see each other at the pearly gates then I'll give you big kiss and hug .and we will really be each other's angel .I know you check on me when I'm down and depressed because I'll see those shining eyes looking at me when I close my eyes and her you whisper theres my loving angel my baby .
