Message To My Family

“When God Calls Me Home.”

When God calls me home know that I am not alone.

When God calls me home know that it's okay to cry a song.

When God calls me home you must carry on.

When God calls me home for my children and family, you must remain strong.

When God calls me home, grieve and let our memories live on.

When God calls me home know that I am near even though it may seem I'm gone.

When God calls me home for me you must live in joy and live on.

“ I am sorry that I cannot get by the funeral home to express my loss in the death of LeRoy. I have placed him in jail for a couple of times and I remember it was 10 days the first time. However, over a period of time he has become of my friends. The last time I saw him we hugged and I think it shocked all of the court officers who was watching but by that time LeRoy was my good friend. If I can be of help please call me. 865-382-8516
