“ I offer my condolences to the family . May the Lord surround you in his loving arms during this difficult time.

Lisa was such an amazing woman beautiful on the outside and inside . She was a person that had such a big heart and was constantly ready to offer a smile or drop whatever she was doing and listen to a friend and offer advice for hours if needed. This is a quality that is not found that often and to know Lisa was to know a very loving ,caring and compassionate individual. Lisa was my favorite person to discuss politics with because she and I usually pulled for different parties. I always looked forward to discussing the current political climate with her from elections,domestic policy on to foreign affairs. Lisa was also extremely intelligent and just every once in a while she would actually change my perception on politics ! Oh she will be missed so incredibly much and I am honored to be called her friend . I love you Lisa and may you rest in Gods arms . I look forward to seeing you my friend again one day !
