“ My papaw taught me everything ive ever known. He was the greatest and definitely the strongest man ive ever known. As a kid i thought my papaw could do anything and i really pretty much believed that my whole life. He always made sure i had whatever i needed growing up. He always tried his best to make everyone happy. No one knows how much ill miss him, the world already seems so empty but i know hes alot better now and is looking down on all of us. I know he could brighten up anyones day with that witty sense of humor. Heaven has one of a kind thats for sure!

“ Cotton never complained as I remember. When his CB club put a roof on a widow's house, he managed to climb the ladder and help. Generous and caring. Prayers. Anna Allred Haney
