“ Although we mourn the loss of a life-long friend, I will continue to cherish the positive influence Roy's life for the past 60+ years, from childhood, has produced. From the early childhood days we played in the snow, hunted in all kinds of weather, went through school together, we roamed the streets together in our teenage years, worked in the fields together and many more activities. Throughout all the challenges of life, Roy has displayed a positive example by setting goals and settling for nothing less than accomplishing them. I look forward to the time when we will roam the streets of Heaven together forever.
