“ Lucas n I met by lucky chance... From the minute him n I started talking n spending time together I knew he was someone that I would enjoy having in my life as a friend. He had such a beautiful soul and his heart was even better. He caused me to see life in a very different prospective. I loved hearing him play guitar and sing to me. He was definitely someone that I used to enjoy just being around to pick his brain. He earned a special place in my heart forever. I love you Lucas n miss you even more. Rest in peace my friend

“ I was locked up with him at KCJ when they gave him his time. Kinda get to know a guy when you locked down 24/7. I know he was a good guy with a good heart. I kinda grew my hair out because of him. He was letting his grow out at the time and I still have not cut mine. We had conversations, he would give me his trays. Considering we didn't get much I really felt bad for him. I knew he was going threw it. But anyway. I know good people and he made an impression on me the short time I knew him. And my condolences to the friends and family of his. May God have mercy on his soul.
